Train Strikes Car; Mrs. Annie M. Doyle Killed Instantly

Annie M. Doyle, wife of John J. Doyle of Atherton, was killed instantly Monday morning at 12.10 o'clock when her automobile was struck by a freight train at the Fifth Ave. crossing of the Dumbarton cut-off.

Mrs. Doyle was driving east on Fifth Ave. when her car hit an iron guard-rail at the southeast corner of the crossing, State Highway Patrol officers said, and the automobile bounced back into the path of the northbound train.

Engineer H. R. Carey of San Francisco stopped the train only a short distance from the accident, indicating that the train was going at a slow rate of speed.

Her car, which was hit on the right rear side, was knocked into a ditch at the side of the tracks.

Mrs. Doyle, who was about 50 years of age, was born in Atherton and she attended the Atherton and Menlo Park schools. Her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Leneham, long-time residents of Menlo Park.

She was a member of the Menlo Park Chapter 277, Native Daughters of the Golden West and was a past president of the organization. She was also a member of the Past Presidents Association, N D G W, Chapter 9. of San Mateo County.

Surviving Mrs. Doyle are her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Jane Feichtmeir of Atherton and Mrs. Beatrice Brandon of Bakersfield, and two sons, Robert E. Doyle of Redwood City and Maj. Bernard Doyle of the U.S. Army Air Forces, currently stationed in Oklahoma.

Her sister, Mrs. Margaret Warren, resides in Redwood City, and another sister, Mrs. Sarah McCann, lives in San Francisco.

She also leaves three grandchildren, Ronald E. Doyle, Whitney A. Brandon, and Robert A. Feichtmeir.

Lindorfer Pleads Guilty to Forgery

Robert Charles Lindorfer, 25, who entered a plea of guilty on a forgery charge at his preliminary hearing last week, has asked the superior court for probation.

Lindorfer, charged with forging two checks totaling $460.04, will hear the report of the probation department on Oct. 2.

He was arrested by Menlo Park police Sept. 10 for allegedly taking two checks from the L. H. Cook Research Laboratory in Menlo Park and forging the name of a company official on them in order to obtain money for gambling debts.

Lt. DuBose Safe, Well In Europe

Second Lt. William DuBose, who was reported missing in action on June 17, is "safe and well," his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. DuBose Sr., learned recently in a cablegram from their son.

The 20-year-old lieutenant gave no mention of his whereabouts in the cablegram, but presumably he is in France or England where he was stationed with an Eighth Air Force fighter group.

DuBose was credited with the destruction of three German barges and an oil tank car in June during the invasion battle.

He went overseas in May after receiving his commission in December, 1942. He is a graduate of Sequoia High School and attended San Mateo Junior College for a semester before entering the services.

His wife, the former Clarice Cox of Oakland, resides in San Francisco.

About 35,000 war refugees are now living in Sweden.

Armstrong Declares Plan 'Speculation'

Climaxing its longest session of 1944, the Redwood City City Council Monday rejected an ordinance prepared by City Atty. Paul McCarthy, which would call a special election on the proposed purchase of 107 acres of land on Bayshore Hwy. for future industrial sites.

Overriding the recommendation of the planning commission and the indorsement of the chamber of commerce, the council unanimously voted to not call the special election so as to not jeopardize the chance of the $998,000 postwar building program which will appear on the regular November ballot.

One of the most significant developments was the heretofore unmentioned group of "civic-minded" business men who were willing to finance the purchase of the land through a bank and in turn sell the land "without profit" to the city, but collecting the specified four per cent interest.

Answering a question as to the identity of this group of men, City Mgr. Robert Mead stated that he did not know since arrangements were handled through the bank.

Mayor Hilton then asked if anyone could invest with this mysterious group of men and was answered in the affirmative by McCarthy.

Spearheading the battle against placing the initiative measure on the special ballot was Councilman C. C. Armstrong who called the proposal pure speculation on the part of the city.

"I would not like to voice publicly what I think will happen to it," Armstrong stated.

Climaxing the about-face on the issue was a statement by Councilman Harold Anderson, one of the principal proponents of the plan.

"If there's this much skepticism among seven men, what are two-thirds of the people going to say?" Anderson asked.

After another brief flurry of debate, Councilman Floyd D. Granger made a motion to lay the ordinance on the table so as to not jeopardize the bond issue.

Councilman George McNulty then stated that the city would lost its option to buy the land.

"Well, we've only lost a dollar," commented Councilman Armstrong.

City Attorney McCarthy then suggested that the city council meet again on Sept. 25 and invite the chamber of commerce and bank executives to the meeting at which McCarthy suggested that the ordinance be considered again.

The council made no such provision for this extra meeting in its adjournment motion.

Had the council called the special election, it would have cost the city about $600, according to an estimate by McCarthy. A two-third majority would have been needed on the proposal had it appeared on the special ballot.

CAR FIRE

Fire badly damaged an old-model car parked on the Cuddy Motor Used Car Lot last night, Redwood City firemen reported this week.

Cause of the fire was not known.

Civic League Denounces Current War Memorial Plans

Matthew A. Harris, president of the San Mateo County Civic League, Wednesday issued a written statement to members of the group stating that the league is opposed to the county's current war memorial plans, and urged that veterans of World War II be allowed to decide what and where such memorials should be.

The opinions were expressed in a "white paper" published by the Civic League for its members reporting on the general county tax situation and covering a variety of county problems in which the league is interested, in an effort to "keep county expenditures within reason as insurance against unbridled and foolish county spending."

In addition to opposing the present war memorial plans, the report also:

1. Warned that the needs and expenditures of the county are bound to increase with the tremendous increase in population, but that the county should not appropriate money for the demands of cities within the county for local improvements desired.

2. Expressed militant opposition to the present plan of estimating tax delinquencies in excess of what they actually will be. The balances created at the end of the year are a temptation to over-spending in the next fiscal year, the League believes.

3. Charged an unnamed county department with withholding information on the budget and county revenues. The report specifically states that the Board of Supervisors is not the body referred to.

4. Praised the fact that San Mateo County taxes on a per capita basis are among the lowest in the entire state.

5. Pointed out that the various school districts, including elementary, high school and junior college, throughout the entire county, estimate the tax delinquency reserve at an average of 4½ per cent, while for general county purposes, the delinquency is figured at only 3 per cent. The League states that actual delinquencies are less than 1 per cent and should be figured at slightly above this figure.

6. Pointed, in a chart of county tax rates for the past 10 years, to the fact that the tax rate always has been reduced during an election year, except this year, when only one position is before the voters.

In his opening statement, President Harris, who is a prominent resident of Woodside, and a San Francisco executive, stated that the League has maintained a steady campaign for ten years to keep county taxes in line and that it constantly keeps "an ear to the ground" for proposed expenditures, on which it is able to make suggestions or recommendations, or oppose if "sound principles appear to be menaced." He points out that the League does not concern itself with personal politics and "the frequent squabbles developed by the county press."

The paper retraced the founding of the League at the time the now-forgotten "supervisorial ring" composed of Albert H. Witt of Colma, Manuel Francis of Half Moon Bay, and Walter High of Burlingame was in control of the county government and "embarked on an era of high political spending."

The ring was smashed by the public, 18 months after the Civic League was organized, the paper states. It was at this election that James S. James, of Burlingame, Hugh H. Smith of Daly City and Alvin S. Hatch of Half Moon Bay were elected to the Board of Supervisors. Since then Smith has been replaced by Thomas Hickey, and James' place is held by Edward R. McDonald.

The league declares that it did not oppose the changes brought about by County Civil Service, nor the raising and equalization of county salaries. It also did not oppose the new Juvenile Home fund, nor the 2½-cent levy for the creation of a fitting war memorial, but definitely opposes county authorities deciding what or where it shall be.

$2000 Fire Hits Horgan Ranch

Approximately $2000 in damage was caused by a fire at the Horgan Ranch on Woodside Rd. yesterday afternoon when cloth, being used to cover flower beds, became ignited and burned the flowers.

Harry Lee, owner of the gardens, told County Fire Warden Bert L. Werder that the blaze destroyed an irreplaceable sateen cloth which is placed over the flowers in order to force the blooms. A considerable amount of cheesecloth, which is also used over the plants, was consumed in the blaze.

A large number of chrysanthemums which Lee was readying for a special order were destroyed.

Werder attributed the fire to a carelessly thrown cigaret or match.

Sailors Allegedly Break Diner Windows

Two sailors accused of smashing two windows at the Redwood Diner, 729 El Camino Real, were jailed by Redwood City police Monday on charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace. Police reported that the pair, John Dratch, 30, and Leonard W. Chism, 21, both stationed at Tanforan, entered the establishment at 10 p.m., molested two waitresses, Lois Kunst and Arlene Johnson, and that Dratch ripped up a small picket fence in front of the place and threw it through two windows.

Werder Asks Emerald Lake People's Help

Addition of three more fires to the list of intentionally-set blazes which have plagued county and city firemen during the past month last night intensified the search for the "firebug" responsible for more than 15 fires.

Tuesday night, Redwood City firemen extinguished two roadside blazes on Woodside Rd., neither of which caused any damage to property, but which might have burned nearby residences if out of control.

Firemen speeding to Kentfield Ave. and Woodside Rd. where an alarm had been turned in at the box at 8:13 p.m., discovered another blaze at Bonita Ave. intersection, and trucks answering the first call quickly extinguished both fires.

At 8:27 p.m., County Forest Service men extinguished a small grass fire next to a building at 2555 El Camino Real.

Fire Warden Bert L. Werder issued a plea to residents of Emerald Lake and other districts west of Redwood City to be on the alert for suspicious looking automobiles and to take down license plate numbers in order to aid in capturing the culprits.

Patrols by the county fire office, Woodside Fire Dept., and other agencies have been maintained nightly, but so far, only vague descriptions of automobiles have been obtained as clues.

Werder pointed out that descriptions must be more definite than "shiny black car" or "a gray automobile" in order to be of aid in finding the "firebug."

All of the intentionally-set fires have been at night, Werder said, adding that there was a possibility that some of the grass fires reported during the day might also have been man-set.

City firemen were today investigating the possibility that two automobile fires, one on Sunday and one on Monday evenings, might also have been intentionally started by the same persons responsible for the other fires.

D. E. Eberhardt Sends Cablegram; Is 'Doing O.K.'

First Lt. Donald E. Eberhardt, who only a few days ago was reported missing in action since Aug. 22, is "doing o.k." and "feels swell," he stated in a cablegram received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Eberhardt Tuesday.

Eberhardt, presumably in France although his telegram did not state from where it had been sent, also mentioned his brother, Harry, who is a lieutenant in Lt. Gen. George Patton's army in France.

Donald, the youngest of five brothers in the family now serving in the armed forces, is a P-38 fighter pilot, and is credited with more than 50 missions.

Only recently, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Dubose Sr., of Redwood City received a similar cablegram from their son, Lt. William Dubose, who was downed in action on June 17.

The cablegrams, not official War Department telegrams, possibly indicate that the airmen were liberated by advancing Allied troops or that they may have been returned to the Allied lines by underground agents.

FALSE ALARM

Redwood City firemen reported a false alarm was turned in from a Sequoia High School box yesterday at 5:09 p.m.

Fletcher Says Celebrations Are in Order

Councilman Evans A. Fletcher today stood on record as favoring the right of any man to get drunk on Victory Day.

This assertion, and a short but hot flurry of words between Fletcher and Councilman Floyd D. Granger which followed was one of the highlights of Monday's meeting of the Redwood City City Council.

The "seed was planted" for the verbal battle by Councilman C. C. Armstrong who offered a resolution to petition all places in Redwood City serving liquor to volunteer to close for at least 24 hours following victory in Europe.

Fletcher, backed by Councilman Carl Britschgi, immediately opposed the resolution stating that if there was any time that there was a reason for celebration, the fall of Germany would be the time.

"I am opposed to denying any man the chance to get drunk on Victory Day," Fletcher stated.

"And I want you to put that in the paper," Fletcher spoke to the Tribune representative.

"That's a fine thing for a councilman to say," Granger reprimanded.

Councilman Britschgi opposed the resolution, stating that any man should have a chance to celebrate victory and that if the taverns were closed, it would only postpone the hiliarity 24 hours.

The resolution was passed 5-2.

IT'S WORTH A
SNEEZE
OR TWO!

THE TIME IS NOW
• clean out furnace cold-air return
• clean out floor furnace pit
• replace furnace filters

Is your heating equipment ready for winter duty? Have you slicked-it-up for clean, healthful and efficient delivery of the heat you will need?

It will pay you to look at your furnace filters and replace them with clean, new filters—your heating dealer has them. It will be worth a sneeze or two to remove your floor furnace or cold air return grill and clean out the floor pit. And you will find that if you do this every six months there will be less dusting to do in your home. Then too, you will be getting more heat and burning less gas.

Why not tackle this job next week end? You will be glad you did all winter.

Council in Debate on Additional Used Car Lot on El Camino Real

The potential addition of one more car lot on El Camino Real brought considerable controversy at Monday's meeting of the Redwood City City Council.

After the council had granted permission to J. F. Cuddy to operate the Cuddy Motor Co. at 570 El Camino instead of 334 El Camino, W. A. Van Buren, former manager for Cuddy appeared before the council with an application for a permit to operate a used car lot at 334 El Camino.

Van Buren stated that he planned to improve the property and to build a $10,000 building as soon as materials were available. The applicant also stated that he would have a new car agency as soon as any were available again.

Councilman C. C. Armstrong, who several weeks ago introduced the motion to ask the planning commission to make a study of ways to eliminate used car lots on El Camino Real, carried the brunt of the battle against the permit.

The councilmen agreed that no permit should be granted until the planning commission had completed its study.

However, Councilman Evans Fletcher pointed out that Van Buren could not operate since he did not have a permit and suggested that a temporary permit be granted until the council received and acted upon the report of the planning commission. The temporary permit was granted.

J. G. Adams applied for a permit to operate a small industrial machine shop at Hamilton and Fuller Sts. just within the second residential section in which such a shop would not be permitted. The application was referred to the planning commission.

The council held a long debate as to whether the ice box constructed on a cement foundation outside the L. Casaretto Market on El Camino Real constituted a piece of equipment or a separate structure. Neither City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy nor Building Inspector Laurie Duncan could decide the question and at the suggestion of Councilman Harold Anderson no action was taken.

Anderson stated that since the Casarettos planned to build around the ice box as soon as materials were available, it would be best to let the matter go and if such a building were not constructed the council could then declare the box a separate structure in violation of the building ordinances.

C. G. Uhlenberg offered a plan as a substitute for the appointment of a city treasurer as provided in the 1944-45 budget. The plan, submitted to the council at the request of Councilman Armstrong and Floyd D. Granger, proposed a monthly audit and an independent report covering the operation of the budget. Uhlenberg stated that the cost would not exceed $1500. A sum of $600 was provided in the budget for the office of city treasurer. The matter was placed on the agenda of the next meeting.

The council received commendations from the First Baptist Church and the Redwood City Ministerial Assn. for their action in refusing to allow Sunday performances by circuses and carnivals.

Atty. Edmund Scott, representing William Greenback of 3 Copley St., asked the council's approval of a small building behind his client's residence as of the same structure since it was connected by an arch with the main structure.

The council denied the request but agreed that if the small building were connected directly to the main structure that it would be classified as a part of it.

City Mgr. Robert W. Mead announced the appointment of Loretta Hodge to succeed Lois Styles as the Business and Professional Women's Club's representative to the City Recreation Commission.

The council received a communication from the Board of Equalization announcing that the following liquor licenses had been granted or renewed. George Knutha, DEA New Life Coffee Shop, 858 Main St. (beer); S. J. C. Magnani and Edward F. Fritz, 501 El Camino Real (beer, wine); August Sipignoli and James Zaccanti, Redwood Inn, 775 El Camino Real (beer, spirits) and F. Monisteri, 768 Woodside Rd. (beer, wine).

The latter permit brought back the controversy at the last meeting, climaxed when over 20 people opposed an application for a restaurant license by Lars Anderson at the same address (formerly Cal Bunyard's place). The council denied Anderson the license.

Again opposition was expressed by neighbors last night and the council voted to inform the Board of Equalization that a restaurant license had been denied to Anderson at the same address as the one where Monisteri received a permit to sell liquor.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fuller and daughter expressed their gratitude for the tribute paid their son by the council.

Harvey O'Dell was granted a permit for dancing at 2345 Middlefield Rd., formerly known as "Canepa's." Councilmen Armstrong and Britschgi opposed the issuance of the permit.

He was taken to the Palo Alto Hospital for treatment.

Washburn Speaks At C.C. Luncheon

Warning that if the government makes too many jobs for too many people in the postwar era private enterprise cannot prosper and may not survive, A. Earl Washburn, deputy director of the State Reemployment and Reconstruction Commission Monday urged the people of Redwood City to work for full employment and a high standard of living.

Washburn and his assistant, Ross Miller, addressed the first fall luncheon meeting of the chamber of commerce Monday noon. Both were introduced by Ferris W. Miles, president of the chamber of commerce.

Miller congratulated the city upon the amount of planning and effort represented by the $998,000 public works bond issue to be voted upon Nov. 7.

"It is not our province to tell you what to do about this program," he said, "but we do urge you to consider it carefully, not just as an immediate step, but as a long term program to make this city the best spot there is to live and work."

Washburn pointed out that many California cities and counties have their postwar planning in the blueprint stage.

Three Persons Hurt in Crash

Three persons were injured late Monday when an automobile driven by Charles J. Husband, 43, of Sausalito, crashed into the rear of one driven by Leo J. Benelli, South San Francisco, after Benelli's car had run out of gasoline and stalled on the Bayshore Hwy., San Mateo County Highway Patrol officers reported.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. Sallie Fisher, 53, of Los Angeles, a passenger in Husband's car, who was taken to the South San Francisco Hospital, suffering abrasions and internal injuries.

Benelli and Ralph B. Ward of South San Francisco, who was riding with Benelli, were taken to the South San Francisco Hospital for treatment for cuts and released.

What's the Rush?

IT'S THE TELEPHONE RUSH.

Every night thousands of service men and women dash to the nearest telephones to talk with families and friends at home. Most of the Long Distance calls from camps and naval stations are crowded into a few short hours.

Many circuits are likely to be crowded at that time and it helps a lot when you keep the lines clear from 7 to 10 for service men and women.

Vice President of Bank Embarrassed By Question at Herrscher Hearing

Administration of the $2,500,000 estate of Fannie May Howard Herrscher by her two sons, Robert and Lindsay C. Howard, was under fire Monday after a two-hour hearing in Judge Maxwell McNutt's court yesterday afternoon in which a San Francisco banker admitted "embarrassing" irregularities in procedure.

Henry Robinson, attorney for Edmond E. Herrscher, who has a suit of $1,370,000 against the estate of his deceased wife, hammered relentlessly on his point that the Howards had delegated their authority to draw checks against the estate's bank account to two attorneys, Orville R. Vaughn and J. H. Shuman.

Climax of the hearing came when Charles Pratt, vice president of the bank which was depository for the $1,500,000 commercial account of the estate, admitted that he knew it was irregular for the executors to delegate check-signing authority to others.

"Would it embarass you very much if I asked you to tell the court why this irregularity known by you to be an irregularity was allowed in this instance?" demanded Robinson.

"It is a difficult question to answer," Pratt replied.

"You don't have to answer," interposed the court.

"It is embarassing, to be honest about it," Pratt volunteered.

It developed that the attorneys who were authorized to sign the checks were also attorneys for the bank.

The court continued the case to 10 a.m. Thursday. Robinson said he anticipated he would need three more days to complete his testimony.

Involved in the legal complications of the rich estate are Herrscher's motion to remove the two Howards as executors, his claim for $1,370,000, and the Howards' motion for final distribution of the estate.

Throughout yesterday's examination Judge McNutt expressed his determination to probe the handling of the estate and the custody of the funds.

At one juncture he said he wanted to know if Robert Howard has had anything to do with his estate, and commented that apparently he had not.

When Pratt apparently became confused on some deposit slips to the account dated January, 1942, before Mrs. Herrscher's death, the judge interposed: "I want to find someone who knows something about this account."

Pratt pleaded that "they give me the papers and I appear in court."

"I feel sorry that these executors have been advised the way they have been advised," said the judge at another point in the proceedings.

When Lindsay Howard's familiarity with the estate was under fire, Judge McNutt commented: "You did just about what your brother did—you did what you were told."

Under cross examination Pratt testified that he knew of no precedent in the bank for anyone but an executor drawing checks against an estate. Later he explained that he considered the procedure "unusual" but did not question its legality after he obtained Shuman's authorization to proceed.

Robert Howard testified that he granted authority to the two attorneys to draw checks, and said he had signed but one check himself, that for "about $20.000" for attorney fees. Lindsay Howard said he had never signed a check on the estate.

Robinson said it was his purpose to show that the Howards were incompetent to administer this or any other estate. He drew from Robert the admission that he could not recall what transpired when he was special administrator, or why he paid $185 for a fireproof safe.

The attorney demanded that the bank produce at the next hearing the authorization by which it closed out a $5200 savings account and transferred it to the commercial account. The savings account was opened 10 days before Robert Howard was appointed special administrator, it was claimed.

Eugene Arreguey, investigator in the famous Flood will case, sat with Robinson throughout the hearing. In court but taking no acting part in the proceedings were Joseph J. Bullock, veteran Redwood City attorney, and his assistant, Ray Daba.

Mrs. Hazel Kell Sues for Divorce

Charging cruelty and asking that her husband be restrained from disposing any of their community property, Mrs. Hazel Kell, Canada Rd., Woodside, has filed suit for divorce from Eugene L. Kell, contractor for the United States government.

Mrs. Kell listed the following properties belonging to the couple: Woodside home, valued at $10,000; a promissory note on the Peerless Iron Works of Alameda for $20,000; property in Nome, Alaska, valued at $2500; two 1941 automobiles, and an undetermined amount of cash on deposit in a San Francisco bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Kell were married in January, 1935, and separated in June of this year.

A smouldering rubbish fire in the rear of 118 Grand St. blazed up and scorched a garage before Redwood City firemen extinguished the blaze Monday morning.

A new machine for testing anti-aircraft shell fuses has cut the number of factory rejections as "duds" from 20 per cent to one-tenth of one per cent.

Joe Canfield Writes From Prison Camp

Joseph J. Canfield Jr., prisoner of war of the Germans, has written to his parents from an internment camp in Europe.

The letter, dated July 15, states that he was wounded, but no other details are given. He also wrote that he hoped his flying jacket would be sent home, since it gives a record of the missions in which he participated before being downed over Germany on June 13.

His jacket has flags and bombs painted upon it to represent the sorties, enemy planes downed, and the like.

Canfield, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Canfield Sr., was an aerial gunner aboard a Liberator bomber and had been overseas since March.

He was awarded the Air Medal shortly after he was reported a prisoner of war.

Carmen Miranda's Understudy To Help With Program at Service Men's Party

A mistress of ceremonies direct from the motion picture studios of Hollywood will perform at the "Service Men's Party," Saturday at Sequoia High School, Chmn. Elmer K. Ross reported today.

The star will be Consuelo Gonzales, "South American tornado," and understudy for Carmen Miranda. Ross announced that Miss Gonzales, besides being an outstanding singer, is an excellent entertainer.

In addition, show officials revealed that the O'Neill Sisters, San Francisco dancing team who performed in the party last year will be back again.

Chairman Ross described the coming service men's party as a "real show with scintillating music, colored lights, entertainment, and gags, styled the way the people want it."

Ticket Chmn. Jim Thomas warned stragglers today that this is the last call for general tickets; none will be available after tonight, because only a limited number may be sold. None will be sold at the door.

Tickets are on sale at the local banks and several offices in the courthouse for last-minute purchasers, Thomas said.

Publicity Director Hal Honore explained that the vaudeville show will be followed by a special half-hour period for dancing limited to service men and their hostesses. After that, there will be two hours of dancing open to the general public.

The show, which has been titled the "Forest Frolic," is the opening shot in the War Chest Drive in Redwood City. The affair is held annually, and all profits from the entertainment go toward operating the local USO house.

Too Many Turns; Driver Arrested

Maps show that Bayshore Hwy. runs in a general north and south direction between San Francisco and San Jose in a reasonably straight line; however, San Mateo County Highway Patrol Officer Roy Edwards felt that an automobile driven by Everett Perry, 34, of Firebaugh, Calif., was making too many turns on this comparatively straight highway near the Burlingame city limits, and Perry was arrested on a charge of drunk driving Tuesday night.

Officer Edwards reported that he arrested Perry about midnight after noting that Perry's car was veering across the highway in dangerous fashion.

Perry was booked on the drunk driving charge by Judge Gus B. Risso and released on $50 bail. Date for hearing has not been set.

Vaudeville in America originated in Boston in 1883.

Sisson Changes Plea to Guilty

Raecie Sisson, 38-year-old Negro laborer, changed his plea from not guilty of murder to guilty of voluntary manslaughter before Superior Court Judge Andrew R. Schottky today and will be sentenced to prison today.

Neither Judge Schottky, nor Dep. Dist. Atty. A. S. Whitmore had any comment to make after Joseph J. Bullock, counsel for Sisson, entered the change of plea.

The sentence for voluntary manslaughter as prescribed by law is one to ten years.

Sisson was formally charged with murder last April after the body of Herbert L. Taylor, 22-year-old steward from Camp Schumacher, had been found stabbed to death in a tavern in the heart of San Mateo's "little Harlem."

Witnesses said that Taylor and another Negro, Walter Kelly, 24, began an argument after the two had both attempted to win the affections of an employe of the tavern, and in the ensuing struggle Sisson, a bystander, was struck by a bottle.

Sisson, witnesses related, became enraged and drove home where he got a large hunting knife and returned to stab Taylor.

Kelly was later charged with disturbing the peace.

The first death sentence imposed by a federal court in the United States was passed in New Bern, N.C., in 1793, when four sailors were hanged for mutiny.

Commuters' Column

BY JOE CABOOSE

There's a lot of "tired old men" around today who were never on the U. S. Supreme Court or officials of the New Deal. They are alleged softball players on the local Kiwanis and Commuter club teams. They played their annual "championship" match at Hawes Park yesterday afternoon, and puffed through seven innings without a single call for an ambulance . . . or a riot squad.

★ ★ ★

Who won? Who cares? Everyone was equally exhausted, including the spectators, when the thing was over. Duke Martin, Commuter 3rd-baseman, was so tired in the sixth he hit a two-bagger and then sank down at home plate and went to sleep. However, for the sake of posterity and the record, here are the vital statistics as reported by Score-Keeper Councilman Chester Armstrong:

★ ★ ★

The Commuters won, 21 to 15. Kiwanis outhit the Commuters, 22 to 17. Errors on both sides were numerous. Lew Franklin, the gay mortician, led the K's at bat with four hits in as many times up. Paul Allen, manager, led the C's, three clean hits in four times up. Guido Simoni, former Santa Clara pitching ace, played brilliantly for the Commuters, and was the only man on either team to knock a home run.

★ ★ ★

Al Armitage, Commuter's star first baseman, hit a single and made it home through fumbles. And then fell exhausted over a case of beer. Recreation Director Red Morton said the K's should have won, on the basis of hitting, but "poor pitching cost them the game." Red is right. The K's walked eight men and forced five of the winning runs. Carl Ward started for the K's, and as a pitcher he ought to go a long ways in the banking business.

★ ★ ★

Fred Schmidt, a big, quiet, timid fellow, had to catch them all. And we will say for Fred, if he had been an outfielder he couldn't have covered more ground. Fred had no more idea than the pitcher where the ball was going. Marty Flynn hit a three-bagger and a double and played a nice game at second. Clarence Argo pulled pitcher Jim Thomas out of a bad hole by catching a long fly to right field with three Commuters on base. Manager Bud Kellogg, third base, Ed Hunt, lf, Andy Spinas, ss, Al Sagehorn, cf, and Sid Herkner, bs, all distinguished themselves for the K's by spectacular fielding and hitting."

★ ★ ★

Have you ever seen a dream running? Then you should see Sanford DeBow and Roy Cloud on the bases. They had to hit 'em hard to beat the throw to first. John Gardner, pitching for the Commuters, let in six runs in the sixth inning, and then blew up. Manager Allen sent him to the showers and put in "Cherokee" Cruse, who stopped 'em cold. Other stars for the Commuters were Pres. Stan Perkins, c, Bill Dobbyn, bs, Geo. Raubinger, rf, Jack Werner, p, and Clarence Brizee, second base. Fred Carbine did a swell job of umpiring. Bill Curran practically won the game single-handed through his superb coaching.

Which was almost as much fun as the Commuters had at their monthly dinner meeting at Sodini's last Thursday evening when the Rev. John Collins, pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in San Francisco, was guest speaker. Now you wouldn't think a minister and the Commuters on a "night out" would mix well. That's because you don't know Pastor Collins (who says he is no relation to "Tom Collins"). And it's just possible you don't know all the nice things about Commuters. At any rate, Pastor Collins was charming and delightful. He talked seriously in a humorous vein, and no doubt felt himself in fertile missionary ground among the unregenerated Commuters.

Had a card from Norman Meyer, Red Cross field man stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash. Norm invited the Commuters to hold their next picnic on Lake Chelan in the Cascade Mts., near where he is located. . . . Mrs. Wayne Burke, wife of our cubmaster, is ill at the Palo Alto Hospital. . . . One of our operatives reports that 39 local residents who signed up to go to the Blood Bank failed to keep their appointments. . . . Blood Bank officials then went out into the streets and made their quota by getting a like number of service men to volunteer. . . . Shame on somebody!. . . . The small attendance at Thursday's dinner meeting embarrassed Joe McClellan, speakers bureau, who planned for the usual 55. Only 31 showed up, and the club was stuck on its guarantee. Let's not allow that to happen again fellows!

★ ★ ★

Ed Horgan will head up as chairman of the club's War Chest drive which gets under way next month. . . . You begin to hear arguments here and there over Redwood City's proposed million-dollar added tax bill for postwar projects and civic improvements. . . . They ultimately resolve themselves into the conclusion "you can't have your cake and eat it;" or, "in civic development you get only what you are willing to pay for." . . . Before any of us go off half-cocked and condemn the proposed bond issues, let's learn all the facts, pro and con, and then make our decision at the polls. That's the American way!
